- Right after reading along with the video of “Going Places” by Peter and Paul Reynolds with your child, here are a few questions to ask them:
  - What is Raphael’s reaction when he sees what Maya had built in her backyard?
  - What is a strength that Maya has?
  - Who won the race?
  - How do the other students react when they see Maya and Raphael’s “go-kart”?
    - How do you think the other students felt after Maya and Raphael won?
  - Why do you think Maya and Raphael won the race?
  - Would you want to be friends with Maya in real life?
  - Would Maya have won on her own?
  - Who would you model yourself after: Maya (who saw the potential of the go-kart), Raphael (who thought of combining their strengths to win the race), or the other students (who followed the go-kart instructions as they were written)?
